

EVO350 Open Aspect Cobie VetCare EASTBOURNE

Case Study

Client

Cobie Loubser was keen to achieve an exceptional finish throughout his new veterinary practice in Eastbourne. His chosen location for Cobie VetCare near the town's Enterprise Centre had the required space but he wanted to provide easy and comfortable access to the practice for his clients and their pets too.

Problem

Whilst the practice entrance is on the ground floor there are a few steps, which Cobie knew could be troublesome for older, larger dogs. He knew that a platform lift would be an economical solution - important for a new business - so he was keen to find one that would be strong but not overwhelm the entrance hall aesthetically, or be problematic to use or maintain.

Solution

An EVO350 Open Aspect Short Rise Platform Lift was installed. With a rise of up to three metres and little or no alterations required for installation, this platform lift is an excellent access solution with low maintenance and running costs too. The EVO350's stainless steel finish with polycarbonate infill panels and high quality manufacture creates an excellent first impression. But it's tough too, with a 500kg lifting capacity, integral ramp and anti-slip flooring, it is designed and built for internal and external applications.

Testimonial

Cobie Loubser of Cobie VetCare commented: "I was creating a high quality finish for my new business and this lift could be no exception, both technically and aesthetically. It was extremely important to me to choose a lift that would stand up to the job for many years and I wanted to be confident that it would not jolt or wobble, which dogs can find unsettling. I found Evo Lifts' technical specifications online extremely helpful and the whole process was straightforward and professional throughout - everything went very smoothly. I would have no hesitation in recommending Evo Lifts to others."
